
importing audio from diff session

Posted by slippy - 2008/08/12 12:02

hi,

Is there a way of importing audio between sessions without sampling-i.e cut and paste?if so how would I get around having to shut down 1 session to open the other?

Thanks y'all

Yes, you can use "Import Session Data" or you could go to the workspace browser find the file and drag it into the current session.

Hi,

thanks for the quick reply-I tried doing what you suggested but I get told that I can't import the audio file I want as it `is not a Pr tools session or an OMFI file´ yet it deffinatly is a Pro tools session.

Any thoughts ?

Cheers

You tried using "Import Session Data" when you got that response?

Can you open the PT session that you say is giving you problems in the import session data dialog?

Hi,
yes I can open the session without problem,it just won't let me import the audio file to the other 1

Any ideas?

Sorry for the delay -we are in different time zones

Cheers

Can you bring in the audio file (not the session file) via other import options, such as Import Audio, or locating it in the workspace browser and dragging it to the track list or to an empty space on the edit window playlist area?

Glad you were able to import the audio.

You should be able to bring it in via "Import Session Data", however this is a much more complex process and to try and determine why exactly it is not working for you would be quite difficult via forums. You might check the manual on this process and make sure you are doing everything correctly. It is certainly a much more elegant way to move audio from one project to another.
